

Questions

Which of the following specialties is not involved in the multidisciplinary approach of the treatment of chronic headache:

- a. neurology
- b. orthopedics
- c. psychology
- d. dentistry
- e. thoracic surgery

Regarding masticatory functional disorders:

- a. these are primarily caused by occlusal discrepancies
- b. premature occlusal contacts of less than 10 can lead to increased muscle activity, bruxism, sleep disorders, etc.
- c. Psycho-emotional stress does not influence masticatory functional disorders
- d. The occlusal disturbance represents the significant correlate for the neuromuscular dyscoordination or CMD from a scientific point of view

Regarding the first patient:

- a. Presented tension headaches only on the right half of the face
- b. Bilateral tinnitus was present
- c. No pain was present
- d. The patient had no history of orthodontic treatment

Regarding the second patient:

- a. The patient presented with constant pain
- b. The neurological examination was positive
- c. Mandibular movement was restricted
- d. The patient was completely dentate