Dr. Devorah Schwartz-Arad starts from the idea that dental esthetics is a subject that engages all dental disciplines, and she succeeds to compile the experience of 17 internationally renowned female dentists so as to draft this multidisciplinary contemporary esthetic book.

The book entitled "Esthetics in Dentistry" has five sections and 15 chapters.

In the first section, The esthetic smile, approaches topics such as: orthodontic and orthognathic aspects, detection of facial defects, smile design, orthodontic alignment and dental implants.

Esthetics in adults is the topic of the second section and talks about: anterior rehabilitation with composite resin, rehabilitation of endodontically treated anterior teeth, adult orthodontics, esthetic in implant therapy, esthetic dentistry of tooth wear and the holistic approach.

Materials for esthetic treatment are discussed in section three which includes classifications and indications.

The last section, Surgery for long-term esthetics, presents horizontal bone augmentation, facial esthetics after tumor/trauma-surgeries and combined surgical procedures.

This wonderful book is the result of the author's beliefs that women dentists do not receive the proper professional recognition. Illustrated with over 800 figures, it is a professional contribution to the dental community and its addressed both young and experienced dentists.
