

Dorjan HYSI

DDS, PhD, Associate Professor, Chair
Conservative Dental Department
Faculty of Dental Medicine
University of Medicine of Tirana
Tirana, Albania

UNIVERSITETI I MJEKËSISË, TIRANË

Dr. Dorjan Hysi is the Chair of the Conservative Dental Department at the University of Medicine of Tirana, Faculty of Dental Medicine. Aside his academic work he currently serves as President of The Albanian Dental Association. Previously he was the director of the University Dental Clinic, Tirana, Albania during 2012-2014.

Part of his professional experience was related to the period when he served as CDO/Dental Officer of the Ministry of Health of Albania during 2001-2006.

He studied Dental Public Health as a Fulbright Student at the University of Texas HSC, Dental Branch at Houston during 2003-2004.

He has actively contributed to several projects and professional documents prepared by the Ministry of Health of Albania. Moreover, he is involved in several epidemiological research projects as well as other projects and parts of his work have been presented in several lectures and scientific presentations in national and international dental events.

He is also the author and co-author of papers published nationally and internationally, has been cited by literature and also serves as a peer reviewer for some journals and professional organizations. He is a member of several international professional associations such as EADPH, FDI, CECCO etc.

Research interests: conservative dentistry, dental analgesia, dental education, pain-free.